
Going from P90 to P90X

Posted by Tater - 2008/05/08 14:57

Hey everyone!

I am on week 10 of the older P90 system. So far so good. I purchased it instead of P90X because at the time, I weighed 335lb with a 57" chest and 51" waist. I am 6'3" From what I had read, I wasn't in shape enough for P90X. Now, 10 weeks later, I am down 39 lbs, chest is 49" and waist is 40". I feel great. However the repatition of P90 is starting to wear thin and I will be purchasing P90X in the next day or two.

Now, here's my question. Has anyone bought the P90X system from anywhere other than BeachBody?

if you're buying from a place other than beachbody make sure it's a reputable place that will allow you to exchange discs in case of SOA (scratched on arrival).That happen to a member here but he was able to request replacement (details omitted).

thanks for the reply. After looking around, if I buy new, you only save about $20. I think I'll stay with Beach Body.

Thanks again
